As we look ahead, I am excited about the possibilities to continue to provide quality services, stable employment and limitless opportunities for future growth.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE:

MANAGEMENT POLICY STATEMENT:

It is the main policy of MAJID. to have all its contracting divisions conduct all running projects within a Quality management system (QMS) which will surely always complies with contract documents and project specification.

The policy objectives which are hierarchically aimed by: The executive management

The concerned division management The site management

This can be summarized as follows:

Develop quality awareness for all office & site personnel at all levels by establishing up & implementing a full proof project quality system, develop & maintain a distinguished topmost level of control for all activities.

Use the available resources in the ultimate way (Quality and time) ensuring a profitable job.

Most importantly, to fulfill contract requirements and hence meet the consultant and / or client expectations, by having the job done on time in the right way and with the best possible quality.

PROJECT QUALITY PLAN:

All parties and components involved in the production process of the final product will be affected by this quality plan.

That is, all section personal, suppliers and partners / sub- contractors involved in any quality aspect of the product shall be obligated to comply with the quality requirements stated in this and other related documents within the scopes of their work.

The Quality plan, in a hierarchical sense, is the heart of the overall system serving as the highest executive authority from which arteries stem out delegating authority at different levels of the organization.

Thus, other quality related documents will be based on this PQP and will in return serve as reference documents for sublevels and so on.
